SM Version 7
Updated 10 Sep 08

Search our catalog for a word or phrase by filling in the search box and clicking on Go. Use the Media and Grade Level filters to search only those collections.

Notes on searching:

- o An * at the end of a word will match all endings. Example, CAT* will match CAT, CATS and CATCH.
- o A ? at the end of a word will match any character. Example, CAT? will match CAT or CATS, but not CATCH.
- o Catalog entries that have one or more matches will be displayed. For more control over the search, use the advanced search.
- o The media types and grade levels are filters. Only after the searching is completed will the filters be applied. If no grade levels or media types are selected, all of the found records displayed.
- o You can enter a list of title numbers separated by commas in place of a title. Example: VH1234, 25-1234, 23456

Click Go to display the titles that match your criteria. If you just want the system to pick some titles at random leave the search fields blank and click Search. If you'd like to browse titles in alphabetical order just click on Browse on the menu.

Pages available from the function menu:

- o Browse - Scan the catalog in alphabetic order.
- o Order Form - Schedule items for delivery to your building.
- o On Order - View the material that has been shipped or is scheduled for shipment to your building.
- o Past Orders - View the material that you've ordered or used in the past.
- o Password - Change your account password.
- o Help - View the context sensitive help at the bottom of each form.
- o Close - Sign off Web/MAX and return to our home page.
- o Contact Us - Send an email to our staff.

<input type="checkbox"/> Select <input checked="" type="radio"/> Video	All About Blood &amp; The Heart Video, P-I, 23 min, CS, Library Video, 2001. Introduces young viewers to the body's own delivery service - the circulatory system. This program takes a close-up look at the components of this vital body system: the heart, blood vessels and blood. Kids will discover that blood carries oxygen and nutrients to every cell in our bodies, while also removing waste products that our cells no longer need. Viewers also learn the important role that white blood cells play in protecting our bodies from disease and how platelets help a wound stop bleeding by clotting. * 1 ELEMENTARY SCIENCE 2 HUMAN GROWTH &amp; DEVELOPMENT 3 HUMAN BODY Human Body For Children Video V4059
<input type="checkbox"/> Select <input checked="" type="radio"/> Video	All About Cells &amp; Body Systems Video, P-I, 23 min, CS, Library Video, 2001. Everything we do, even just being alive, is only possible because all our remarkable body systems work together! Gives kids a fascinating look inside the human body and introduces them to the concept that the body is made up of smaller parts called organ systems. With simple explanations and colorful graphics, young students will learn about the functions of each system and the relationships between cells, tissues and organs. Stresses that in order to be healthy, all of the body's functions must work together. * 1 ELEMENTARY SCIENCE 2 HUMAN GROWTH &amp; DEVELOPMENT 3 CELLS 4 HUMAN BODY Human Body For Children Video V4062
<input type="checkbox"/> Select <input checked="" type="radio"/> Video	Atmosphere in Motion, The, (Rev.) Video, I-C, 14 min, CS, EBEC, 1987. Recent changes in the ozone layer have refocused attention on the importance of the atmosphere to life on our planet. Pictures taken from space show the swirling wisps and bands of clouds in the atmosphere surrounding the earth. Convection cells, the Coriolis effect, the structure and composition of the atmosphere and the invisible forces that keep the atmosphere in continuous motion are illustrated through demonstrations, laboratory experiments, and animation. *
